Dean Announces New Courses In Commerce Study

Western has organized a four-year curriculum leading to the Bachelor of Science degree and the provisional high school certificate for teaching commercial subjects in high school. The new commercial curriculum went into effect at the opening of the fall semester. The announcement was made by Dr. F. C. Grise, dean of the college.

This addition to Western's fields of study was organized in cooperation with the Bowling Green Business University. Students selecting this curriculum will meet requirements in subject matter courses and general professional education at Western. The technical commercial courses will be taken at the Business University.

Students following this curriculum will pay only the regular fees charged at Western and the degree will be granted by Western.

Kentucky students now have the opportunity of entering veterinary medical training at Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Alabama, or at Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee, Alabama. The State of Kentucky has made this possible through its participation in the Southern Regional Education program.

The State pays $1,000 per student per year through the Southern Regional Education Board to the institutions. Each year Alabama Polytechnic Institute holds ten places and Tuskegee Institute holds two places for entering students from Kentucky. These students must meet admission requirements of the schools. If admitted, Kentucky students have the same status as Alabama students. They do not pay out-of-town tuition.

Western has recently organized a two-year curriculum which meets all educational requirements for admission to the School of Veterinary Medicine at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute.

For further details of the curriculum described above, consult the Dean of the College.

First Chapel Conducted By Local Pastors

Western students, faculty members, and guests gathered in Van Meter auditorium Wednesday, September 17, for the first chapel program of the 1952-53 school year. The Bowling Green Ministerial Association had charge of the program. The Reverend John S. Smith, president of the association, presided.

Each representative pointed out the schedule of his church activities. President Paul L. Garrett, in welcoming the ministers to the chapel program, urged all Western students to continue their church attendance while away from home.

This chapel program marked the first of a weekly series of assembly meetings held each Wednesday morning at ten.

Enrollment Shows Gain Over Last Year

The total enrollment at Western for the 1952-53 academic year is 2,185, a gain of 106 over last year, according to an announcement by college officials.

Mr. E. H. Canon, registrar, listed the college enrollment at 1,661. This figure shows a gain of 128 students over last year's enrollment.

Western's Training School has 429 students in daily attendance. Of this number, 201 are in College High, 228 in elementary grades, and 30 are attending the Rural Training School. This announcement was made by Dr. C. H. Jagers, director of the Training School.

In Western's Trade School, 93 persons have registered. Registration for night classes at the trade school will be held Oct. 7.

Approximately 265 students registered for Saturday classes. Most of these students teach or work at other jobs during the week and attend classes each Saturday.

Four Chosen As Cheerleaders In Chapel

Election of cheerleaders was conducted by Dr. Ward Sumpter in chapel, Wednesday, Sept. 24. Dr. Sumpter announced that four students would be elected from the 17 volunteering candidates, in accordance with the applause each received.

Each candidate, after being introduced by Dr. Sumpter, led a cheer, so that the audience could observe her talent, poise, and appearance.

The judges, seated separately in the auditorium and consisting of faculty and student representation, announced that Charles Eldridge, Emmy Smith, Joan Grabruck, and Ruth Steenburgen were the winners.

Joan Grabruck, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Grabruck, of Bowling Green, is a freshman physical education major. Miss Grabruck was cheerleader in high school for one year and a member of the Speech Club.

Mary Smith, better known as "Emmie", a freshman hailing from Ashland, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Smith. Miss Smith was a cheerleader in high school for three years, a member of the Theta Club, Company queen, and on the annual staff.

Ruth Steenburgen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Steenburgen of Glasgow, is a sophomore majoring in elementary education. Miss Steenburgen, a cheerleader for Western last year, is a present member of the Education Council.

ROTC Has Record Number For Second Straight Year

Total enrollment in Western's ROTC department for the fall semester is 659 cadets, according to figures released by Lt. Col. George H. Sibbald, PMS&T, and Lt. Col. Harry J. Peterson, PAS&T. This is an all-time record, topping last year by 43 when 616 were enrolled.

Lt. Col. Sibbald in giving the figures for the Army branch of Western's ROTC said 194 students were enrolled. Of this number, 96 are in the freshman class, 44 in the sophomore class, 37 in the junior class and 17 in the senior group.

In the Air branch of the ROTC, Lt. Col. Peterson said a total of 465 were enrolled. Of this group 145 are in the freshman class, 177 in the sophomore class, 83 in the junior class and 60 seniors.

This year's enrollment ranks as one of the largest in the history of Western's ROTC unit which dates back to 1919 when the Army unit was founded. The Air Force unit was founded in 1946.

All students enrolled in ROTC take basic training during the freshman and sophomore years. At the beginning of the junior year the cadets enter the advanced course and are paid a monetary allowance of 90c per day during the junior and senior years. At the close of the senior year when the cadet is graduated from the college he also receives a second lieutenant's commission in the reserves, provided he has satisfactorily completed the two years of work in the advanced course.

The record of Western graduates who have received second lieutenant's commissions and gone into the regular services has been outstanding. Many have qualified for regular commissions in the Army or Air Force and are making a career in the military services.

A Glimpse Of Bowling Green

To both the old students who are back and the new students, Bowling Green would like to say "welcome." Older students may know what is to be found in Bowling Green, but those of you who are new no doubt are wondering just what this town you are to spend the next few months in is like.

The 1951 census set the population of Warren county at 42,248, and that of Bowling Green as 22,847. The city covers an area of 6.15 square miles, and has an altitude of 509 feet above sea level.

Bowling Green was established in 1797, by an early pioneer from Virginia, Robert Moore. Tradition says that Mr. Moore had a bowling alley on the green in the rear of his log cabin, and for this reason the town was called Bowling Green. Since this time Bowling Green has enjoyed recreational sports and activities. It now has four city parks, two nine-hole golf courses, boating and swimming, dancing night clubs, three movie theatres, and three drive-in theatres. The Army as well as our auditorium provides accommodations for concerts, lectures, drama and civic gatherings.

Medical service found here is very good. September, 16, 1952, was the opening of a new $1,000,000 Class A hospital, recognized by the American Medical and Surgery societies. Serving this hospital and the community is a medical staff made up of more than twenty-five doctors.

Two local radio stations serve the community. WLEB, AM and FM, is an affiliate of the Mutual Broadcasting System, with 5,000 watts power, and operates 18 1/2 hours daily.

WKBC is an affiliate of the American Broadcasting Co., has 1,000 watts power, and operates 18 hours daily. Both stations give special service stressing local, national and international news. Remote-control lines broadcast athletics, political, musical and educational features of local interest.

Other than our own institution of higher learning, Bowling Green has one of the largest privately-owned schools of business in America, the Bowling Green Business University. Also, there are twelve public schools, our own training school, and one parochial school.

The Park City Daily News, a daily and Sunday newspaper, serves the area with a paid circulation of approximately 10,000. For some 75 years the owners and publishers of the paper have been the Gaines family, with the present publishers being John B. Gaines, Jr., and J. Ray Gaines.

Warren county is mostly an agricultural region, although some industries are found here. These are the Bowling Green Manufacturing Company, Union Underwear Company, Pet Milk Company, Honey Krust Bakery, and Field Packing Company. Flour mills and other plants as bottling companies also have substantial payrolls.

Five hotels and other adequate tourist accommodations are found here. Some of the countries' most beautiful and modern motels are located in and around Bowling Green.

Several organizations are found in Bowling Green. The city has an active Chamber of Commerce and Credit Bureau, Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Civitan, Masons, Odd Fellows, Knights of Columbus, Knights of Pythias, Elks and Moose clubs; American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars; men's and women literary clubs; Boy and Girl Scouts; and a Boy's Club.

The citizens of Bowling Green hope that your stay here will be a pleasant one and leave many pleasant memories when you leave. Again we say "welcome."

By Hob Richardson

That ever-important time has come around again. The Herald staff is buzzing about, and the presses have started rolling to meet the deadlines. Generally speaking, it is the time, too, for all the students here on the Hill to start that gray matter churning. Last year I sat back in comparative ease and read this column, never dreaming I would be scheming up its material for this year. My regards and sympathies go to Bill Ford, wherever he may be.

First things being first, here is a sincere welcome to all our fellow students, but especially to the new faces we now see. This year's crop of freshmen looks fine. I haven't checked on the number enrolled, but guessing at the figure by the long lunch lines at the cafeteria and the thick smoke clouds at the Gold Post, I'd say we have well into the several hundreds.

It's refreshing to watch the new blood and personalities maneuvering about on the campus. I'm sticking out my neck by saying that the freshman girls have a certain innocent, unlearned look that is appealing. If you have the opportunity, watch some of these young, wide-eyed creatures as they pass by a football player. Their pony-tail tresses literally fan in the breeze, while they manage accidentally to flutter the most delicious smiles and soft gazes toward their brawny heroes.

The freshman boys are on their way to being well liked, and their shoes are just the right combination of white buck and smeared dirt. Their manners are smooth, too. A senior girl was telling me only yesterday that a freshman boy mistook her for a freshman girl.

Some of the old habituals and habits are still around for those who miss the scenes of last year. Remember the lunch line characters who bang and crash their trays against the lunch counter if the line is a minute or five late in opening? They're still with us. Last Wednesday the only sound missing in the din of vibrations was the loud call of a tobacco auctioneer.

Of course the sophisticated and weary upper classmen must not be overlooked. No college is complete without them. They are around to remind you freshmen that someday you, too, can fill your brain and yet retain some of your health.

Seriously, I'd like to give a reminder to all newcomers. Whether or not you want it that way, much of your college life is going to be study, study, and more of the same. You may say that your philosophy is built around play and nothing more, but you can't win. Try that way of thinking, and then the advice is, "Sorry, you flunked. Just make it up by studying."

Welcome, Freshmen

By Martha Wade

This year Western's music department again arranged a Big Brother-Big Sister program to welcome and help approximately forty incoming freshman music majors and minors. Freshman were introduced to their Big Brothers and Big Sisters Thursday, September 11, after they had taken the Seashore Test of Music Aptitude; most of them went to supper together.

Friday morning the upper classmen met at Cherry Hall to help the freshmen with registration problems. A picnic was held at Beech Bend Park Friday night, and a get-together party was arranged Saturday night at the music building. Cesar Ricci and his dance band played for informal dancing.

The program was initiated last year to welcome the new music students and help them with their problems. This year's committee in the Big Brother-Big Sister program was headed by co-chairman James and Annabelle Jensen. The committee itself was composed of upperclassmen in the music department.

The foregoing events were held during Freshman Days, and others are scheduled for later dates this month.

Birds I View

By Martha Wade

Frank Mitropoulos is a new face on Western's campus this fall. He is a freshman music major from Chicago. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mitropoulos, were born in Greece—which probably had something to do with his being nicknamed "Greek" in high school.

Frank's pet hobby is listening to recordings made by Stan Kenton and Les Brown; he also enjoys playing with an orchestra or a rhythm band. Three things he particularly enjoys are symphonic music, jazz, and Dixieland. He says that he has no strong dislikes.

Frank's major instrument is the trombone, and he and it have already made themselves a familiar part of our concert band, marching band, and orchestra. Recently he tried out for a place in the Red and Gray and is currently playing with this dance band. Aside from school organizations he is an active member of the Episcopal Church.

He was a pupil of Mark McDunn, a student at Western about ten years ago.

Frank's ambition is to graduate from the Red and Gray and play in a professional big-name dance band someday.

MR. PRESIDENT by Harry S. Truman. The first publication from the personal diaries, private letters, papers, and revealing interviews of Harry S. Truman.

LINCOLN AND HIS GENERALS by Thomas H. Williams. The theme is Lincoln as a director of war, his place in the high command, and his influence in developing a modern command system for this nation.

THE SAVILION by Stark Young. The author and critic relives in retrospect his early years in the Deep South in the eighties and nineties, and his later years in New York.

Musical Notes

The industrious screeching and blowing you are hearing from Music Hall these days are the earnest efforts of the new freshman class of music majors. The Seashore Tests were given during registration to fifty-four students, among which are some of the finest talents to land here in several years. The Freshman Auditions sounded good to our ears.

This year for the second time the freshman orientation for music students got a real lift as a result of the Big Brother program planned by upper classmen of the Music Department. Older students volunteered to act as advisors and companions to little brothers or sisters in the freshman class. In addition to assistance at registration, the group planned several social activities, including a picnic at Beech Bend and a Coke party at Music Hall. Co-Chairmen of the project were Skip and AnnaBelle Jensen.

The 1952 issue of the Western Newscian, sent out last month to all music students and graduates, included some interesting items. In its twelve pages were listed information about music faculty members, highlights in music of the past year at Western, news and addresses of graduates, news of Westerners in the armed forces, a gossip column, a section of musical want ads, and an editorial by Dr. Gunderson. A large number of post card responses in answer to requests for present addresses has been received and will comprise the raw material for the next issue of the Newscian.

An organizational meeting of the A. M. Stickles History Club was held Thursday afternoon, September 18, in the history department's seminar room.

The election of officers was the main point of business of the meeting. The following personnel were elected to serve this year: William Lewis-Bennett, president; Cherokee Smith, vice-president; Mrs. Dorothy Allen Green, secretary-treasurer; William M. DeWeese, sergeant-at-arms.

L. T. Smith Judges Art Awards Participation

Mr. L. T. Smith, head of the Industrial Arts department, was a judge in the Ford Motor Company Industrial Arts Awards Participation, 1951-1952, in Dearborn, Mich., during the summer.

Approximately 5,100 projects were entered. This is an increase of 2,700 entries over the 1951 total of 2,400, or on the percentage basis, an increase of 113 per cent in participation.

Entries were received from every one of the 48 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and Hawaii. This year's entries represent about 500 cities and 900 schools.

Donald McMahon Appointed

Donald McMahon, former drill sergeant of the Marching Hundred, and assistant in woodwinds at the University of Indiana, has been engaged in the music department of Western. A native Hoosier, Mr. McMahon has done both his undergraduate and graduate study at Indiana. He is the former first clarinetist of the Indiana University orchestra and solo clarinetist of the University Concert Band.

Dr. Hugh Gunderson, who was for nine years director of bands at Western, will resume the directorship of those organizations with the assistance of McMahon and five student assistants.

Physics Majors Lead In Graduate Attendance

In a recent study conducted by Dr. A. L. Grabb, professor of education at Peabody College and noted author, it was disclosed that more physics majors from Western's physics department go to graduate school than from any other college department in the United States.

Prof. George Page, head of Western's physics department, said to a Herald reporter that the students who have been doing graduate studies are doing good work. While on a trip this summer, Mr. Page stopped at several colleges and was asked at each if he had any more boys to send them.

Marvin Russell, a Western graduate, who is on a scholarship at the University of Florida, has been put on a research program. While on this program he will be able to carry a one-half load for college credit and get paid for his work on the program. In this manner he will continue his college work until he receives his Ph. D.

Westerners At State Fair

Western Takes Part In State Fair

Higher education in the state was accorded a prominent place at the Kentucky State Fair, held in Louisville, September 5-13. Exhibit booths were set aside for the University of Kentucky, the five state colleges and the private colleges.

Western's booth, with its large handsome banner topping the display spotlights made this a bright location and showed to advantage the three display cases filled with interesting items from the Kentucky Building Museum. Above these were placed twelve shadow-box paintings by Kentucky artists depicting the history of medicine in Kentucky. These were placed in the museum by the Women's Auxiliary of the Kentucky State Medical Association.

On the back wall of the booth were two large paintings, one of Daniel Boone by Edwin Finch, the other of a scene outside an early fort painted by George Joseph and presented to the Kentucky museum by the Courier-Journal. Between these was hung a photograph of the Kentucky Building taken by J. Wellington Young, A.B. '51; and placed in the collection by Chester Johnson, local photographer.

The bright and colorful atmosphere of the display attracted hundreds of visitors each day, especially Western alumni, present-day students, and prospective students.

Representatives of the Western staff took turns in the booth to welcome all visitors from the opening to the closing hours. Those in charge were Messrs. Kelly Thompson, Bob Cochran, Gayle Carver, and Mesdames Frank P. Moore and Grace Overby.

Letter Received

A letter was recently received in "Uncle Billy" Craig's office from Mrs. Tom Padgett bringing the College Heights Herald up-to-date on Dr. Tom Padgett.

Tom finished his pre-medical work at Western in 1947 and entered the University of Louisville where he completed his work in 1951. He has finished his internship at St. Elizabeth Hospital in Covington. He will begin a three-year residency on July 1 at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, Va., in radiology and X-ray.

Two Former Students Spend Summer In Europe

James Coke, A. B. '51, and James Hunt, A. B. '50, M. A. '51, former students of the Foreign Language department of Western, have spent the past summer traveling in Europe.

Mr. Coke left the United States in June, and Mr. Hunt reached France in July. They met in August to accept an invitation to take an automobile tour of Southern France and Italy and to visit in Switzerland with a French exchange student whom they had met at Indiana University last year.

Mr. Coke returned to the United States late in August in order to continue work on the degree of Master of Arts at Indiana University, where he has an instructorship in French. Mr. Hunt, who was a student instructor at Indiana University last year, remained in France for further study.

Former Westerners Head Association

It has come to the attention of the Herald that all of the new officers of the Kentucky Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation are former Westerners.

Mr. Bernard Miller, Health Supervisor Daviess County schools and new president of the organization, received his degree from Union College and did graduate work here. President-elect is Betty Langley, BS'47, who is now teaching in the Training School.

E. B. Whalin, secretary-treasurer of the association, now with the State Department of Education, received the AB degree from Western in 1926.

Faculty Notes

Mr. Adon Foster visited his parents in Cortland, N. Y., during the summer, and spent a few days in New York City. He also visited his brother-in-law in Toronto, Canada, and was fortunate enough to do some fishing at Sand Lake.

Dr. David E. Matthews, B. S. '41, M. S. Ohio State University, Ph. D. Vanderbilt, of Bowling Green, formerly of the department of physics at the University of Mississippi, is now teaching physics at Southwestern at Memphis, Tenn.

Dr. Matthews is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Matthews, former members of the Western Faculty.

Miss Betty Langley, Training School physical education teacher, attended an advisory council meeting of the Kentucky Association of Health, Physical Education, and its Recreation, which was held in Louisville, September 26.

Miss Gertrude Bale took a six weeks' trip through the North West, during which time she traveled over 6,000 miles. She visited her mother in Smithland, Iowa, after which her mother accompanied her to Portland, Oregon, where she visited her brother. Miss Bale enjoyed a trip to the Oregon Coast and a short stay at The Timberline Lodge on Mount Hood.

Mr. Robert Pearson, head of the vocal department at Western, spent the summer vacation at his home in Niagara Falls, New York. He spent part of his spare time catching bass and yellow pike in Lake Ontario, but the summer was made even more memorable by the birth of a baby girl, Rebecca Anne, August 31.

Dr. Earl A. Moore of the English Department, has accepted an invitation to appear as recorder and evaluator on the program of the annual convention of the National Council of Teachers of English, to be held in Boston, Massachusetts, November 26, 27, and 28.

Westerner Gets Award

The Fund for the Advancement of Education as established by the Ford Foundation has awarded Otis W. Allen, science instructor at the Greenwood High School, a $7,100.00 fellowship for the purpose of studying "The Status of Science Teaching", according to information received by Superintendent of City Schools W. B. Dribben. Allen was selected by a local committee as a candidate for the fellowship which has been offered to 400 public schools throughout the United States.

The fund was originally established by the Ford Foundation in 1951 for the purpose of improving formal education at all levels. It was first confined to teachers in colleges and universities, but suggestions from many quarters have urged that high school teachers be given a similar opportunity. The plan is now designed to embody teachers of high school level and give the recipient a chance to devote an academic year away from the classroom to activities that will extend his liberal education, improve his teaching ability, and increase his effectiveness as a member of his school system and his community.

As specified by the fund officials, a local committee was appointed by Superintendent Dribben for the purpose of selecting the candidate. The committee was composed of 4 men and 2 women and their selection was Otis W. Allen.

Candidate Allen was then required to make an outline of his qualifications, accomplishments, and his proposed activities under the fellowship should he be accepted.

After compiling all of the pertinent information and drafting an outline of study, Allen submitted it to the National Committee on High School Teacher Fellowships which is headed by Lester W. Nelson, Principal of the Scarsdale High School at Scarsdale, New York. The six-man committee for the fund studied the information and the plan of study and forwarded the following decision to Superintendent Dribben:

"We are pleased to inform you that the National Committee on High School Fellowships of the Fund for the Advancement of Education has taken favorable action on the recommendation of your local Selection Committee. A copy of the letter of notification from the Fund for the Advancement of Education to the fellowship recipient is attached for your information and that of your local Selection Committee."

Two Western Cadets Chosen Leaders

Jim Felix and Curtis Logsdon were two of the five cadets chosen as the most outstanding leaders among two hundred prospective officers on July 19, 1952, the last day of one month's encampment at Maxwell Air Force Base, Montgomery, Ala. The two hundred cadets were divided into five flights at Summer Camp. Each flight was observed by specified Air Force Officers during the month's training, and one man was chosen from each flight upon his qualifications to lead men and to obey orders.

The two hundred cadets paraded onto the air strip at Maxwell Field that hot Saturday morning. The squadron was called to attention, and those to be decorated were called forward. General Edwards personally awarded the citations to the five men in the presence of many high-ranking Air Force Officers.

Dr. And Mrs. Earl Moore Take Trip To Near East

Dr. and Mrs. Earl A. Moore, of the English Department, spent most of the summer in travel. In June they attended the convention of Kiwanis International in Seattle. En route stops were made in Chicago, Glacier National Park, and Yellowstone National Park.

From July 8 to August 29 the Moores were on a tour which took them into Canada, Iceland, Ireland, Scotland, England, France, Switzerland, Italy, Greece, Egypt, Lebanon, Syria, Jordan, and Israel. They traveled by air except that they motored through the countries of the Near East and through England.

Besides the usual sightseeing activities, Dr. and Mrs. Moore visited schools and churches and conferred with many private citizens, ministers, and missionaries.

Since their return they have presented programs based on various features of their travels, for numerous clubs and other organizations.

TEN SECONDS TO GO, the ball on the 40 yard line, Western behind Eastern 13-7 with Jimmy Feix calling the signals as the two teams face each other in the last seconds of the game. Taking the ball from center and fading back to the 50 yard line; Feix cocked his arm and let fly with a strike to the outstretched arms of Max Stevens who was cutting across the field, and streaking for the goal-line.

Jimmy Feix

Over a third of the spectators had left the stadium thinking that a good Eastern team had defeated the hard-fighting Hilltoppers. But little did they know, until they read about it later, that it was Western who had won the ball game and not the Maroons. Stevens picked that pass out of the air as if he knew all along Feix was going to win the ball game that way and was just waiting for the right opportunity.

That tied it up; the extra point split the posts with as much ease and the game was ours, 14-13.

This play, which is certainly a once in a life-time, is needless to say, the highlight up to now in Jimmy's seven year career as a football player. A career that started back when he was an All-Stater in Barret High School in Henderson.

An interesting sidelight on Jimmy's career is the fact that all through high school and up to the Evansville game last week he started off every single contest with exactly the same play. Like most football players he is superstitious. That play, which sends the fullback right across the center of the line, always seemed to bring him good luck the rest of the game. But he decided, after Gene McFadden was plowed under by four tacklers in the first game of the present season, that perhaps the teams are aware of this and are looking for it. There is nothing Jim would rather do than make this a perfect year, and he isn't taking any chances with even one play that might mean a ball game.

There he is, Hilltopper backers, the quarterback of this year's team, Jimmy Feix.

In the first game of the season against Middle Tennessee State it seems that many of the fans couldn't decide just why the referees called so many penalties against the Big Red for delaying the game.

Thus at this point it seems fitting that the reason for this infraction should be explained. There is a new rule that went into effect this year which states that a timeout will be charged to a team every time they make a substitution while the clock is running. Each team is allowed five timeouts a half, and after the fifth one a five yard penalty is charged for delaying the game. Western had used up all of their timeouts before the end of the first quarter.

People all over Bowling Green who saw the game with Middle Tennessee State, are still talking about that catch that big Bill Ploumis made and scored on after he had seemingly juggled it on his fingertips all the way to the goal-line.

The 1932-33 cheerleaders have been selected. So far they've been doing a fine job, and will continue to do so; but they can't do it all by themselves. If everyone will get behind them and cooperate with them by helping to decorate the field, paint signs, or anything else they might need, it is a certainty that the spirit of both students and athletes will hit a new high at each game.

A team led well, will win well.

Big Red Wins Their First Game Of The Year

Led by the sparkling play of senior end Bubber Simpson, the "Toppers" came from behind three times to knock off the Blue Raiders of Middle Tennessee State in the first game of the season by the score of 33-19 before 3,500 surprised fans in the Western Stadium.

After the Raider quarterback John R. Smith pitched a 66-yard touchdown pass to Halfback Don Stotser on the third play of the ball game it only took the Big Red a little over a minute to come back with a tally of their own in the form of a 60-yard march in six plays. John Sowers carried over from the one for the score.

The Tennesseans were back

again after the next kickoff to go ahead on a final plunge by Smith off the left end. A 13-yard punt return by Bobby Jilysen, topped with a 24-yard run by Sowers, and a touchdown dive by Sowers tied it up once again. This time Ray Nutter converted to put the "Toppers" out in front 13-12.

A 68-yard drive by Middle Tennessee produced their final touchdown and the last one of the half as they walked off the field on the good side of a 19-13 score.

In the first ten minutes of the second half Simpson went to work. On the third play from scrimmage he went high into the air to take a pass from Jimmy Feix, and shaking off a would-be interceptor dragged seven Raiders to the 31 before he was finally brought down. This was the set-up for the score, and five plays later Max Stevens made it 19-19 on a two yard dash to pay dirt.

Late in the third period Western took over on their own 34 and worked their way in seven plays to the Raider's 32. Then with a beautiful fake by Feix, Simpson took the handoff on an end round and galloped the distance to the goal line just ahead of two defensive tacklers. This play seemed to break the

'Toppers Take Evansville 39-0 For Second Grid Win

Climaxed by a 38 yard jaunt to the Evansville goal line by freshman Jim Sanford with two minutes left in the game, the Western eleven slashed their way to an impressive victory over the Aces on their own field 39-0.

The "Toppers" carried for a total of 122 yards on the ground and passed to an additional 237 yards or a total of 425 yards gained. This is matched against a total of 86 yards picked up in both departments by the Aces.

Jimmy Feix, playing before a home crowd, opened up the scoring early in the contest with a 21 yard touchdown pass to Max Stevens. The extra point was good, and the Big Red was off and running. Stevens added another TD in the second quarter on a 21 yard dash through the line.

On the second play of the third period Feix hit end Bubber Simpson with a nine yard pass that he carried, through an amazed Evansville backfield, 56 yards to the third Western touchdown. Shortly after this run, a blocked punt by Western found them with the ball on the five yard line, and on the second down Feix fired a pass to Jack Binkley, who diving after it, made a somersaulting catch in the end zone.

The last two scores came in the final frame; the first being set up by a pass-interception by Stevens. The score came on a pass by Whitely Sanders to Binkley, who immediately lateraled the ball to Willie Watson as he galloped the remainder of the 56 yards to pay dirt.

Then with less than two minutes to go in the game, Sanford made his spectacular run in which he evaded a swarm of Evansville tacklers on the way to the goal line 38 yards away.

The "Toppers" do not see action this weekend, but they will be back in the saddle next Saturday as they travel to Morehead to take on the Eagles in a tight contest with the home-team out for revenge of the defeat suffered at the hands of Western last year. In the Eagles contest last Saturday they were defeated by Eastern Tennessee State by the score of 34-0.

Intramurels To Start Soon

Only a few students excel enough in football to be able to play for the Hilltopper eleven, but everybody from the freshman on up can play in the Intramural program which will be going on this fall.

If you are interested, and would like to get up a team to compete in the tournament, be sure to contact Frank Wallace, who is in charge of the program this year, as soon as you can get players enough to make up an eleven man squad.

Student Forum Is Organized

In keeping with the policy that was initiated last year with success by the speech classes of the English department under the supervision of Russell H. Miller, the speech classes of 1952-1953 have organized a "Student Forum."

At their organizational meeting on September 30, 1952, the first forum schedule Thomas Pogue, the 1950-1951 Robinson Declamation contest winner and a member of Western's Intercollegiate debating team lectured on "The Effect of Exhaustion of Raw Materials on the United States."

On October 14, 1952, James B. Jones will present a film forum discussing "The Economic Philosophy of the Democratic Party vs the Economic Philosophy of the Republican Party." The forums on October 21, November 11, November 23, and December 9, will be given by one of the four groups comprising the organization. Their discussions will be based upon suggestions and questions submitted and selected by the speech students.

The "Student Forum" will close the semester with a debate on January 13, 1953.

Jim Sanford was another big gun in Western's attack as he rattled off 55 yards in six tries for a 6.3 average.

The Hilltoppers won't be seen in action again in the Western stadium until October 18, when South-Eastern Louisiana State College invades the campus. Next Saturday the Toppers play at Morehead in an important conference game.

Speaker Stresses Productive Age

That college graduates of 1952 are entering into an age which may prove to be one of the most productive from cultural and physical standpoints that the world has ever known, was stressed by Dr. Drake K. McCall in the baccalaureate address to the 146 candidates for degrees at Western, on July 29.

Dr. McCall, president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville, said people throughout the ages have come to realize that regardless of how dark the world situation might appear, the situation is never hopeless.

Whenever the future looks the most hopeless, there always follow greater accomplishments than have ever been known before, Dr. McCall declared.

Some 1,500 persons attended the summer program at Western.

English Dept. To Present Speech Contests

Continuing to follow the grand old tradition of which the student body and the college is so proud, Western's English department again will present its annual oratorical contests under the supervision of Russell H. Miller.

This year, for the first time, all of the orations will be the participants' original text, which is to be from ten to fifteen minutes in length.

On February 11, 1953, the American Association of University Women's Oratorical contest, which is open to all of Western's enterprising young women in the freshmen through the senior class, will be presented for the third consecutive year. The winning coed will be awarded a beautiful trophy cup by the local representative of the A. A. U. W.

The junior and senior young men of the campus in an effort to win the coveted Ogden medal will exhibit their talents of oration on March 4, in the Ogden Oratorical contest.

The Ogden will be followed on April 1 by the Robinson Oratorical contest in which the freshmen and sophomore young men of the college will participate in hoping to win the Robinson Key.

The winners of the A. A. U. W. Ogden Oratorical, and the Robinson Declaration contests last year were respectively Joan Curry, William E. Bevin, and Jerry Parker.

KING-SIZE CIGARETTE

BOTH regular and king-size Chesterfields are premium quality cigarettes and come in the smart white pack.

BOTH contain only those proven ingredients that make Chesterfields the best possible smoke: the world's best tobaccos, pure, more costly moistening agents (to keep them tasty and fresh), the best cigarette paper that money can buy — nothing else.

BOTH are much milder with an extraordinarily good taste and, from the report of a well-known research organization — no unpleasant after-taste.

BOTH are exactly the same in all respects. There is absolutely no difference except that king-size Chesterfield is larger — contains considerably more of the same tobaccos — enough more to give you a 21% longer smoke, yet costs very little more.
